The Selectmen's Corner

Happy winter from the Board of Selectmen, which consists of First Selectman Carl P. Fortuna, Jr. and Selectmen Scott Giegerich and Matthew Pugliese. The winter season brings its own special beauty to our shores. Winter is a great time to get outside and enjoy our shoreline and all of our great hiking trails. The Board of Selectmen thanks you for entrusting us with running your local government.

THE GOLD STANDARD

The Town of Old Saybrook is among seventeen Connecticut municipalities to be recognized this fall for achieving Sustainable CT Silver Certification. Old Saybrook met high standards in a broad range of sustainability accomplishments to qualify for the prestigious silver-level certification which is the highest level of certification currently offered (thus the "gold" standard.)

Sustainable CT is a statewide initiative that inspires and supports communities in becoming more efficient, resilient, and inclusive. As First Selectman, I am proud of our team and the work that has gone into obtaining this certification. This is a major accomplishment-silver certification is awarded to only a handful of towns statewide. We all know sustainability is important to our community at large and many of the programs that helped us achieve silver certification have been priorities for my administration since coming into office in 2011.

In our application for Sustainable CT certification, we demonstrated significant achievements in actions in nine sustainable impact areas. Here are a few samples:

The Town has partnered with the Old Saybrook Land Trust and the State of CT to make great progress in preserving open space for the benefit of the environment and enjoyment of residents and generations to come; The Town worked with UConn to inventory and prioritize brownfields properties to help facilitate their redevelopment; The Town participates in and promotes the C-PACE program, and had its first business, Stencil Ease, approved for C-PACE financing from the CT Green Bank to undertake clean energy improvements on their property; The Town continued to grow sustainable and affordable housing options with the addition of 59 units over the past 5 years for residents earning less than 80% of the state median income; The Town received credit for continuing to promote "Complete Streets" with the construction of sidewalks, roadside lighting and bus shelters; The Town leaders and staff worked cooperatively with the Chamber of Commerce to help small businesses hit continued on page 5 hard by the Covid pandemic. Efforts included roundtables to find out what the small business owners needed, dissemination of information about grant and loan programs, providing PPE, help with permitting and land use issues and streamlining the outdoor seating approval process for restaurants, providing business promotion, and establishing a long-term recovery task force and, finally, the Town undertook a Climate Vulnerability Assessment, and matched a Storm Sandy CDBG-DR (disaster recovery) grant from the CT-Department of Housing to thoroughly study how to make Old Saybrook's coastal areas more resilient. (The Town gave special consideration to economic risk and vulnerable populations in the Town Center (low and moderate income residents,) the Chalker Beach community (geographically vulnerable to the impact of extreme weather events) and owners of historic homes in need for technical and financial assistance by older, moderate-income property owners.)

Old Saybrook's Land Use Department coordinates the Town's Sustainable CT efforts. Lynette Wacker is our Team Leader and knows that using the Sustainable CT program as a guide for our efforts will help to ensure that Old Saybrook continues to be a wonderful place to live and visit well into the future. Despite these unusual times, Old Saybrook keeps moving in the right direction.

COVID-19 continues to be the dominant issue in all of our lives on a daily basis. For a period of time in the spring, town hall was closed. Since mid-June, Old Saybrook town hall has been fully open with all necessary safety precautions in place. There is little doubt our community will continue to be affected by this virus in significant ways over the course of the winter and headed to spring: Our local businesses will struggle without your support so please do everything you can to shop local; If you know friends and neighbors who may become unemployed or underemployed, they should know that our social services department is there to assist them; Our students have had to survive this pandemic with on again, off again in-school learning and social isolation has become the norm for too many of our citizens. While I understand this is a public health crisis, the actual numbers of COVID cases in our community since the start of the pandemic has been manageable. In Old Saybrook, COVID-19 has more been an economic and educational crisis, no different than the rest of the country. And while we will be coming out of this pandemic in the new year, probably as the weather gets warmer, we need to support our fellow businesspersons and residents until then. One way to help local residents is by supporting an organization called Old Saybrook Cares (OS Cares.) This non-profit has been set up to assist COVID-19 affected residents in our town. Grants of up to $1500 help residents with food, utilities and other everyday expenses. 100% of the raised funds assists Old Saybrook residents who can demonstrate they have been economically affected by this pandemic and we have a committee that applies a qualifying review process to make certain of this. The distributed funds are meant to help these residents bridge the gap until they can return to their normal employment in 2021. If you would like to donate, you may donate on the OS Cares page on the Middlesex United Way website or drop a check payable to OS Cares at the First Selectman's office in town hall. Thank you.

Early in November of 2020, my staff and I commenced preparing the fiscal year '22 budget, which runs from July 1, 2021 to June 30th, 2022. The process is lengthy and begins with a review of town benefits (health and life insurance, as well as pension review) and moves to a salary review of our employees. We move on from there to short term and long-term capital projects. The budget is a planning document for the town, one that must respect every dollar spent and make certain that value is returned for taxpayer money. Building the budget takes a solid five months, usually culminating in a budget referendum early in May. Last year, no referendum took place due to the pandemic. We can only wonder what May of 2021 will look like. As for the financial impact that COVID-19 will have on the town budget, my team here in town hall will watch our numbers closely and will take corrective action if need be. We have contingency plans but we are hopeful that our town can manage through what promises to be an interesting time.

In the past you may have noticed that I have written several times about garbage. Yep, the stuff you bring to the curb which magically disappears, or maybe the bags you bring to the transfer station to gleefully toss into the bin, never thinking what happens next. Well, trash disposal is getting and will get a lot more expensive. Connecticut is facing a waste crisis, as traditional options for disposing of municipal solid waste are slowly diminishing. Five waste-to-energy (WTE) facilities in the state handle the majority of the 2.4 million tons of municipal solid waste (MSW) that is disposed each year. One of these facilities, the Materials Innovation and Recycling Authority (MIRA) waste-to-energy facility in Hartford, is an aging facility and is likely to shut down in coming years. This is the facility where Old Saybrook's trash goes.

Connecticut and its municipalities are increasingly turning to export of their MSW to out-of-state landfills as an alternative. In 2013, the state exported 63,457 tons to out-of-state landfills, compared to 302,866 tons in 2018, a disturbing trend. With fewer and rapidly aging disposal options in the state, residents and municipal leaders can expect tipping fees to increase at the remaining in-state waste-to-energy facilities, along with rates for out-of-state landfilling. Available space in northeast landfills may decline 40% by 2026. Landfilling also exposes business and towns to unpredictable cost increases as they compete for transportation and landfill capacity as well as potential long-term liability if a landfill has a release or is otherwise a source of pollution in the future. "This is a silent crisis, a quiet crisis, but a crisis nonetheless," DEEP Commissioner Katie Dykes said. "Many towns are struggling with increased tip fees and all of the indicators are telling us that the situation will get worse. The good news is that if we act now, we can rethink our waste system and invest in sustainable materials management solutions that will help us limit our reliance on landfills and waste-to-energy facilities in the future."

According to a 2015 study, nearly 40% of what residents throw away is material that could be recycled. Another 35% is organic material—food scraps and yard waste—that can be donated, composted, and processed into animal feed. In August, DEEP launched the Connecticut Coalition for Sustainable Materials Management (CCSMM) in partnership with 74 Connecticut municipalities, to identify sustainable materials management solutions for Connecticut's waste crisis. The CCSMM has convened four working groups that are hard at work coming up with solutions around reducing the waste stream, reusing materials and increasing recycling while seeking to innovate and learn from waste professionals and other environmental agencies across the country.

Over the next several months, DEEP seeks to continue the conversation around this crisis, and plans to share resources on our social media channels via the hashtag #RethinkWasteCT. We hope it is a thought process you decide to engage in, whether it is individual action, or learning about strategies that could be scaled up here in Old Saybrook. These actions taken together can transform Connecticut's waste system. DEEP has many resources available on its website for community and household leaders alike to educate and assist with disposing of your trash. DEEP is encouraging residents, businesses, and community leaders to reduce, reuse, recycle and add a fourth "R" to the equation: Rethink.

"All across the state, there are examples of municipal leaders, entrepreneurs, and community advocates launching innovative programs and businesses that are helping our state recycle, compost, and reuse valuable materials in our waste stream," Commissioner Dykes said. "With the waste crisis looming, we all have a role to play in building on and supporting those examples, and it all starts when we rethink."

Just before the Thanksgiving holiday, Old Saybrook lost a great man, its Town Treasurer, Robert W. Fish. Bob was a friend and colleague to many but he will be most remembered for his love and service to the Town old Old Saybrook for 58 years (that is not a typo.) From volunteering on land use commissions and the Board of Education to an interim run as First Selectman, and finally the last 20 years as Town Treasurer, Bob made an indelible impact on this town. He has been wise counsel to me, the prior administration and countless others and he will be missed. Thank you, Bob. May you rest in peace.

The pandemic has tested all of us and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future. Here in Old Saybrook and all across the world, we are likely going to have to learn to live with this virus until vaccines are widely distributed and available. Even then, there will still be cases and outbreaks. But we must make something good come from all this whether it is a greater

UPDATE ON OCTOBER 1, 2020 GRAND LIST

The October 1, 2020 Grand List for the July 1, 2021 tax bill is about to be updated. First, all business personal property declarations that were returned by November 1st are in the process of review and will be entered into the business personal property tax computer system. Any declarations that have not been properly filled out or signed and dated or any declarations that were not returned or were returned late will, by state statute, have a 25% penalty added to their assessment.

Also, in late November the Assessor's Office received a list of motor vehicles that have been sold or traded between October 1, 2018 and October 1, 2019. This list from CT DMV is known as the Supplements List. This list contains approximately 3,000 vehicles and about half of those vehicles have to be priced manually by the assessor and assistant assessor from NADA price guides.

In addition, there are other changes that have to be considered by the Assessor such as court case settlements completed from the October 1, 2018 revaluation – some of these cases have yet to be done because they have been put on hold as a result of COVID-19.

Beginning in late July and through the summer, the Assessor and staff will be following up on building permits that have been issued since October 1, 2019. Any property that is currently under construction will be assessed and prorated based on the date of completion or the completion date on the certificate of occupancy.

Any property under renovation or construction since October 1, 2019 will be prorated based on percent complete as of that date. If there is a certificate of occupancy, the assessment will be prorated based on the date of the certificate of occupancy.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION UPDATE

The Old Saybrook Economic Development Commission (EDC) continued its work to support local businesses through the pandemic with two projects: the first invited Old Saybrook businesses to participate in the EDC's geofencing marketing campaign to encourage local shopping during the holidays; and the second was the Gingerbread House Decorating Contest that runs through January 2.

GEOFENCING "SHOP LOCAL" MARKETING CAMPAIGN

The Old Saybrook EDC has been using geofencing marketing for the past three years. This year, the EDC extended geofencing advertising options to Old Saybrook businesses at a subsidized rate. "Given the challenges for our local small businesses this year, the Economic Development Commission wants to support them by providing them with the opportunity to use this tool at a subsidized rate," said Matt Pugliese, Old Saybrook EDC Chair. "Increasing the use of digital marketing strategies is one of the most frequently requested needs - and a big challenge for businesses with small staffs and small marketing budgets. Our goal as the commission is to help local small businesses remain viable through the pandemic." Three Old Saybrook businesses partnered with the EDC to include their business advertisements within the larger campaign.

GINGERBREAD HOUSE DECORATING CONTEST

To bring visitors into Old Saybrook during the holiday shopping season to support small businesses, the EDC sponsored the Gingerbread House Decorating Contest. The contest created an opportunity for anyone of any age or ability to enter a gingerbread creation into the contest at no cost. The gingerbread creations will be displayed in the windows of local bakeries Pursuit of Pastry and Dagmar's Desserts through January 2, 2021. Local pastry chefs, Jill Peterson at Pursuit of Pastry and Dagmar Ratensperger of Dagmar's Desserts were

But the fun didn't end there! The public has an opportunity to vote for a "Fan Favorite" entry in all three categories. "Fan Favorite" votes can be cast online by making donations to Old Saybrook C.A.R.E.S. at cbo.io/d/oschamber through January 2, 2021. Every $1 donated equals 1 Fan Favorite vote. Fan Favorite winners will be announced the first week of January 2021.

Conservation Commission

The Old Saybrook Conservation Commission organized a coastal cleanup effort on September 26. Other groups that participated included the OSHS Ecology Club, Girl Scout Troop 60485, the Chamber of Commerce PLOT group, Chalker Beach Association and Great Hammock Beach Association. Many other town beach and neighborhood associations have annual cleanups throughout the year.

As part of the planning, the Conservation Commission awarded a prize for the most amount of trash collected. This year's award went to Girl Scout Troop 60485 whose trash collection included a couple of old tires (see photo on page 12.)

While local cleanups have been ongoing in Old Saybrook for many years, the Conservation Commission found inspiration with the resources provided by The Ocean Conservancy which began organizing and encouraging coastal cleanups globally in 1986 (see: <https://oceanconservancy.org/trash-free-seas>).

The Ocean Conservancy has developed an app called Clean Swell which is available for free at the app store. The app quantifies the types of trash collected and identifies the most frequently found items. This data is used to focus efforts on what can be done to decrease the most common trash items. An example is the recognition of the large number of discarded plastic straws which has resulted in an awareness and education around the value in using fewer plastic straws. Not surprisingly, new items have been added to the app this year including personal protective equipment such as gloves and masks. Several masks and gloves were found during the local cleanup.

Cleanups are a great way to get involved locally with a global issue of ocean pollution. It also has the benefit of allowing people to become familiar with our local coastline and appreciate how fortunate we are to have over 20 miles of coastline to enjoy in Old Saybrook. Please mark your calendars now for the next global coastline cleanup in September 2021.

Fall Home Projects To Boost Your Comfort and Energy Efficiency

By: Enoch Lenge

Fall is a great time to tackle those home improvement projects that have been put off because of the summer heat. In addition to landscaping, gutter cleaning, power washing, and deck repair, here are some home improvement projects to add to your list to boost your comfort while helping save you money and energy this winter:

- Upgrade Your Lighting – Did you know that the average household dedicates about 5% of its energy budget to lighting? Now that it's getting darker earlier and your lights are on longer, consider switching your current light bulbs with LEDs. According to Energy.gov, ENERGY STAR-certified residential LEDs use at least 75% less energy and last up to 25 times longer than incandescent lighting.
- Insulate Doors and Windows – Air sealing, especially in an old, drafty house, can save homeowners more than 20% on their heating and cooling costs. Installing weatherstripping around your doors and windows is an easy and low-cost way to improve your home's energy efficiency and keep the cold winter wind at bay.
- Check Your Attic for Air Leaks – An unfinished, poorly insulated attic is another common area where homeowners experience significant heat loss. Adding insulation to the attic floor and sealing any air leaks can help stabilize the temperature inside your home, prevent ice dams, and save on energy costs.
- Maintain Your Heating and Cooling Systems – Be sure to add scheduling a preventative tune-up with your local

- HVAC company to your list to keep that system running efficiently and preserving air flow. A clean system that is free of dirt and debris will run more efficiently and preserve airflow.
- Install Programmable Thermostats – You can save as much as 10% a year on heating and cooling by simply turning your thermostat back 7°-10°F for 8 hours a day from its typical setting. Programmable thermostats allow you to easily set your home's temperature in advance to avoid coming home to a freezing house. A smart thermostat takes that a step further by allowing you to set your temperature from your smart phone or tablet. Some even learn your habits and adjust accordingly – saving you even more.
- Window Replacement – While this may not be at the top of your list, replacing old windows, especially with high performance ones like triple-pane windows, can improve a home's energy efficiency and overall comfort.

Before researching various contractors or DIY-ing these improvements, take advantage of the limited time only, no-cost Home Energy Solutionssm program offered by Eversource. To get started, you can schedule an appointment with an Eversource-authorized energy expert to evaluate your home's energy efficiency needs. During in-person visits, energy experts, while following COVID-19 safety requirements, will also conduct important safety tests and install weatherization measures and energy-saving improvements, such as air sealing, LED lighting, and advanced power strips.

To help make these improvements more affordable, program participants can take advantage of 0% financing on approved energy-saving improvements, and up to 100% off of eligible insulation projects. Eversource has you covered with a wide range of energy-saving rebates and discounts, including a new triple-pane window rebate.

From now through December 31, Eversource is offering a $100 rebate per window for each window replaced with an ENERGY STAR-certified triple-pane window.

Whether you're looking to improve the comfort of your home, save on your energy bill, or help save the environment, Eversource has several budget-friendly solutions to help you get started. To schedule your energy assessment, call 1-877-WISE-USE (877-947-3873), or visit Eversource.com to learn more about Eversource's residential offerings and additional ways to save.

BOARD ANNOUNCES DESIGN EXCELLENCE AWARD RECIPIENTS

Old Saybrook, CT, December 4, 2020:

The Architectural Review Board is pleased to announce the recipients of the Design Excellence Awards, which recognize buildings in the Town of Old Saybrook that preserve and cultivate the existing and long-standing character of the town. Established in 1998, the Architectural Review Board defines two categories in which to recognize architectural design: new construction and renovation.

The ARB is pleased to announce the recipients for the next round of awards:

Max's Place, Spencer Plain Road, for New Construction, 2010 - 2014;

North Cove Shops, 75 Main Street, for Renovation, 2010 - 2014;

The Shops at Oyster River, 923 Boston Post Road, for New Construction, 2015 - 2019;

Little Pub, 1231 Boston Post Road, for Renovation, 2015 - 2019.

Emily Grochowski, Chairman of the ARB, explained that several projects were worthy candidates of a Design Excellence Award, however these recipients displayed unique qualities that set them apart. "For example," explained Grochowski, "the North Cove Shops are notable for bringing cohesion to the entire property and also for the patio which encourages interaction among patrons and passers by." The Shops at Oyster River is notable for bringing a large warehouse style building to human scale; Little Pub is a wonderful renovation notable for incorporating high quality materials and whimsical design features, while Max's Place enhances the intersection of Spencer Plain Road and Boston Post Road, in part by using smaller liner buildings to screen the larger buildings and parking area behind. These projects comply with the Town Plan of Conservation and Development's vision of Old Saybrook in terms of appropriate scale, design and use, creating an overall "sense of place."

The ARB is grateful to these recipients who carry on this tradition of design and architectural excellence. Framed certificates will be presented February 8, 2021 at a virtual Design Excellence Awards ceremony.

About the Architectural Review Board

The ARB works to provide guidance to owners, designers and developers in order to maintain the town's unique character and to foster the gradual improvement of its appearance. The ARB challenges the applicant to consider and articulate the transformations they propose and to view their project in the larger context of their surrounding environment. The ARB provides a forum for positive feedback that impacts the common good of both individual residents and the entire community.

Nightingale Scholarship Fund

THE OLD SAYBROOK PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING BOARD

Thanks The Community for Their Generous Donations!

The generous donations made by local residents and businesses to the 2020 Nursing Board's annual Nightingale Fund Appeal enabled the board to give three scholarships totaling $6,000. Recipients are Mackenzie Cart, Cassidy Hallowell and Julia Sultini.

The Public Health Nursing Board responding to the shortage of trained nurses established the Nightingale Fund in 2005 to help fund annual nursing scholarships for Old Saybrook residents. Many of our past scholarship recipients are currently working in key professional nursing positions in our state which is both gratifying and a testament to the success of this program.

The community response to the nursing scholarship appeal was inspiring

Sustainable CT Silver Certification - What's Next?

Now that Old Saybrook has earned the distinction of being a silver-certified* community under the Sustainable CT program through 2023, we are not finished. The Town is committed to building on this progress by continuing to work toward the goals outlined in the program in preparation for the next certification round.

Some of these goals (or "actions") are new, because as the Sustainable CT program gains momentum throughout the State it is also changing in response to feedback from participating communities. These changes reflect requests for actions that make communities even more equitable for people and for wildlife too.

While the program's wide-ranging menu of best practices has addressed housing and equity since it began certifying communities in 2018, participants felt that even more was needed. There will now be an action to promote more diverse housing options and an entire section has been added to address homelessness prevention. Other new actions to protect pollinators, prevent light pollution, and create community gardening spaces have also been added. An even greater emphasis will be placed on inclusion and collaboration; municipalities will be challenged to recognize and address system-wide inequities in the governmental process, to create a shared vision for equality, and to work in cooperation with other communities. Sustainable CT offers equity training and coaching to help with this. The final revised action list will be released on January 1, 2021.

To learn more about the Sustainable CT program and to view Old Saybrook's certification report, visit SustainableCT.org. To get involved, email lwacker@oldsaybrookct.gov.

To achieve silver status, Old Saybrook needed to complete actions totaling at least 400 points (our previous two bronze awards required 200 points) and prove that at least three actions were implemented with an "equity toolkit" to ensure that marginalized voices were included in the decision-making process (bronze required one equity action.)*

Social Services & COVID-19 Help 2020 January - March

EVERSOURCE, SCG, UTILITIES

You may be offered up to 24 months to pay off your outstanding balances due to COVID-19. You should call the utility companies now to sign up. You will not be charged interest, fees and or be required to give a down payment. There will not be an income determination needed to qualify. Please do this before the moratorium ends on February 9, 2021. Please call the number on your utility bill now, before shut off can occur. If you set up and keep to the 24 month payment arrangement made now, you will not be shut off during that entire 24 month period, not just through the winter hardship coding ending May 1. This is why it is important to set up the 24 month payment plan now.

EVICCTIONS AND FORECLOSURES

As moratoriums are lifted this new year, legal actions can commence. Evictions can start with a Notice to Quit followed by Appearance paperwork served and a court date to be decided by a judge and eviction cannot occur without this due legal process. Help is offered by applying to the state for the rental TRHAP program and foreclosure T-MAP assistance due to COVID by going on line to Connecticut Department of Housing at portal.ct.gov/doh

THE OLD SAYBROOK PUBLIC SCHOOLS NEWSLETTER

War of the Worlds* in the Age of COVID!

When I joined the Drama Club in the fall of 2019 as a sophomore, I was immediately struck by the kind community we had. Not only was our director, Lenore Grunko, fantastic in all her many ways, but the student community was inspiring. I was immediately brought into the family, and traditions were passed on to us. Even when I didn't understand past references, they were immediately explained. There were many new members throughout the productions, including transfer students, as well as the incoming freshman group, and yet the upperclassmen were full of kind, responsible, welcoming, and talented students.

Through the next two shows, The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time, and Thoroughly Modern Millie, I came to know that our cast could conquer almost any challenge. With the strange set and lighting needs for Curious Incident, and the complicated choreography, set pieces, and musical numbers in Thoroughly Modern Millie, I was sure that we were a resilient bunch. This was proven to me over and over again when we got the news in March, two days from our opening night of Thoroughly Modern Millie, that we would not be able to perform for the time being. At that moment we were postponed but had the hopes of being able to perform again in a few weeks. Obviously, that was just a dream because we were never able to perform the show. COVID not only impacted our show but also changed theater drastically all over the world. Not only can people not go to support shows, but the casts also cannot rehearse together or perform. Being someone who loves, not only performing in the theater, but also going to other shows and seeing fellow cast members thrive, it was very hard for me to lose that aspect of my life.

As the months progressed, many of us were unsure what the future for the Drama Club would be this year. There were many emails and Google meet conferences to decide the future of the Drama Club for this fall. At first, there were discussions about doing virtual workshops to improve our skills since we couldn't put together an in-person show. A few weeks later, however, Ms. Grunko announced that she had the idea to do a radio production. I'd never heard of War of the Worlds before, but my parents had, and I thought it was a brilliant idea. It was shocking to me that none of us had thought of it previously. The idea of being given a script and having this creative outlet as a part of my life once again was exciting.

When we finally started working on the show, it suddenly became very difficult. We faced many challenges for which there were no easy answers. For our cast, a virtual production was a totally different ballgame. We were each assigned a large number of roles, and many of the roles required very different acting styles. The cast also had to learn a lot about the history of the production and the real-life characters within it. Since our production not only encompassed the original play but also had background information on the panic that ensued, it became more complicated to perform. Moreover, there were issues that came with the technical side of this virtual theater production.

Many of us were new to doing presentations over Zoom.

Being on a Google meet or a Zoom call, it was extremely difficult to communicate well. There were so many delays in audio or visuals, and at first, it was very daunting to think about overcoming these issues. There were many technical delays, feedback, and echoes, plus having to learn how to stream to an audience. Many of us were new to doing presentations over Zoom, and learning how to act in a radio play was very different from what we had experienced. Not being able to see the other actors, doing it in your own home, and having to change the way you communicate became a cast-wide challenge. For the technical crew, learning how to make the sound effects work and conquering the never-ending list of technical issues was exhausting. It also didn't help that the play was set in the 1930s, so some of the dialogue was different from today's speech and could be difficult to learn. Since we had such a small cast and the play itself had a wide array of roles, each member had numerous and varied roles. Rehearsals could sometimes be emotionally draining, especially when you felt like you weren't progressing. Whether you were stumbling through your long speeches, or not being able to hear the cues, the trials were endless.

A week out from opening night I honestly started to get a little nervous. There were so many technical issues that hadn't been resolved, and I was worried that our message wouldn't be conveyed clearly because the performance was virtual. As we got closer and closer to the show, my anxieties grew. In our final dress rehearsal, a new problem arose. We suddenly had a large feedback issue, and an echo was consistent throughout the night. Thankfully, one of the cast members was able to resolve the issue promptly. On Wednesday night, at our final dress rehearsal, our show finally came together. Everyone knew their lines and spoke clearly and smoothly, and every cue was perfect. We finally got in a rhythm and could take a deep breath.

On opening night, we were ready to go, and I am so impressed with each and every one of the cast members and technical crew for putting together something so complicated under such circumstances.

Though it was very hard on everyone involved, I am so proud to have worked with the cast and technical crew of the War of the Worlds broadcast. I'm also very grateful for our director, Lenore Grunko, and everyone who assisted us to make this production happen. Even though it was very different from what we normally perform, I learned so much, and I'm so lucky to have had this experience. I can walk away from it having new skills and confidence that will take me further in my theater journey.

McKenna Roberts, OSHS student, class of 2022

Fall Spirit Day at OSMS

Early in the school year, students approached the Middle School Building Administration with concern that many of the school's holiday traditions would not be able to be celebrated as they have in years past. Recognizing the need for students to experience a day of fun amidst all of the craziness, administrators worked with students on a variety of creative, socially distanced ideas and activities aimed at bringing the students and staff together in a meaningful way. On November 6, 2020, the Old Saybrook

Middle School held a Fall Spirit Day.

Students in each grade rotated through five-game stations outside on the soccer fields. The weather could not have been any nicer, and students were able to have an egg toss, shake it off game, balloon relay, gourd race, and a musical circle station. At each station, they got a little prize to put in their goodie bag. Additionally, each student was given a pumpkin to decorate. Students also came up with many costume contest categories; including best overall costume, best home-made costume, best costume to represent 2020, best class themed costume, and best staff costume. The winners were announced to the school and received little medals. It was a much-needed day of fun for students and staff during this very different fall.

Thank you to the Old Saybrook Middle School PTO for funding a large portion of the day.

Gazebo Glee

After a long bout of distance learning this past spring, Goodwin School spent the summer preparing to open its doors to students for the beginning of the 2020-2021 academic year. Music teacher Lois Geer was determined to keep music alive at Goodwin School. After learning that state guidelines would limit indoor singing and the use of musical instruments, such as playing recorders, Ms. Geer marched into the principal's office and said, "We have to find a way!"

After some determined planning, Goodwin's music program moved outdoors. The school's gazebo became the stage and Ms. Geer and her student teacher, Christopher Marsala, became the conductors. It was a team effort, to be sure. The PTA also pitched in by purchasing a tent so all students in a class could sit socially distanced. Craig Stone, Head Custodian, made sure the tent was put up every morning. Amity Goss, Director of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment, provided a wireless WiFi connector so the Distance Learners would not be left out. Every day throughout September, October, and the first part of November, the traveling troubadours took each class to the Gazebo, where they were able to sing gleefully. Being outdoors was great for everyone! "It was really quite a sight to see," chuckled Christopher Marsala. "Lois would kick off teaching the lessons for music students, and I would have the laptop set up for Google Meet and continually check to ensure the WiFi connection was live. We really made a great team!"

Although Jack Frost has started to nip at the nose and toes of Old Saybrook natives, spring is just around the corner, and Ms. Geer intends to resume music classes outdoors when the weather is more favorable.

OLD SAYBROOK OSPR PARKS AND RECREATION

TEEN CENTER

As we head into the New Year, the Teen Center will be holding a Home Run Derby contest on Friday, January 15th at the Rec. On January 29th & February 5th, we will be having a kickball tournament. The first night will kick-off the competition with a single elimination style tournament. The following week will consist of the remaining teams to compete in a best of three to determine our winner. Participants can put together co-ed teams of 4 and construct creative names and costumes! It's important that all Teen Center members wear a mask anytime they walk into our Recreation facility. As we head into March, we'll gather up some March Madness brackets from our members and will be hosting a three point competition on March 19th. For more information about the Teen Center, see Kyle Bohonowicz at the Rec!

E-SPORTS LEAGUE

We are excited to launch our new E-Sports program for anyone in grades 5-12th. Starting on Monday, January 11th gamers will play 5 competitive weeks of Rocket League that will help determine our league champion. Gamers will need to own the game, console, and have internet connection. We hope that this program will be one that creates new friendships while gamers play from the comfort of their home. We take care of the scheduling and stat keeping while you have some fun! If you interested, check the program page on our website www.oldsaybrookrec.com.

WINTER BASKETBALL - Skill Clinics

This winter and due to COVID-19, OSPR will not be running our traditional basketball league. Instead we will be running basketball clinics for 6 weeks beginning in January. We will have a 45 minute clinic, once a week for each grade, 2nd - 8th. There will be limited spaces available and all participants and coaches will be required to wear a mask while participating. We will be looking for volunteer coaches for this program if you are interested, please reach out to Jonathan Paradis. All program information can be found online at: www.oldsaybrookrec.com.

SNOWMAN BUILDING CHAMPIONSHIP

Back for a 3rd year, the Championship is planned for Saturday, January 16th on the Town Green. If Mother Nature does not provide the snow, Eric Lintelman of Maximum Snowmaking Co. will! We will have up to 16 teams this year compete for Best in Snow. Thank you to the OSFD for their help and support of the program. To register your team of snow engineers, please visit oldsaybrookrec.com. Only one person per team needs to register.

FEBRUARY VACATION CAMP

Looking for something fun and exciting for your child to do during our mid-winter break? OSPR will be offering a three day camp starting on Monday, February 15th through Wednesday the 17th. Camp will start at 9:00 am and go until 4:00 pm. Campers will play games in the gym, hang out in the teen center and enjoy crafts and other games throughout the week. OSPR will air a movie during the week on the large projector screen! Camp is just $90.00 for the three days.

Vacation camp is open for those in K-5th Grade. Registration starts on Tuesday, January 2nd. Space is limited, so make sure to sign up early! Masks and daily temperature checks will be required. To register, please visit our website.

OSLL SPRING TRAINING W/ OSPR

Every March, OSPR teams up with Old Saybrook Little League to offer a four week spring training program. This year we are offering two programs. The first program is for ages 6 & 7 starting at 5:00 pm for one hour. Our second program is for 8 & 9 year olds and starts at 6:15 pm. Both programs run on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Both of these programs are just $5.00! OSPR would like to thank all of the volunteers from OSLL who make these programs possible!

NATURE TALKS - A Lecture Series

After taking a few months off our popular lecture series returns in March on the 9th at 6:00 pm with a presentation on the American Woodcock. This 45 minute seminar will include a PowerPoint presentation, some artifacts and other items as well as a Q&A opportunity at the end. Our lecture series takes place at the Vicki Duffy Pavilion at Saybrook Point and is led by Patricia Laudano who is a Master Wildlife Conservationists for CT Department of Energy and Environment Protection. There is limited seating and registration is required and online at: www.oldsaybrookrec.com. The program is $5.00 for residents and $8.00 for nonresidents.

T-BALL & COACH PITCH WITH OSPR & OSLL

For the 2021 baseball and softball season, OSPR is working with OSLL to make minor changes and clarify the question of "where and when do I play T-ball or Coach Pitch." For years, OSPR has handled both leagues, but age and skill was always a question. It left some kids playing up and some kids playing down.

Moving forward, any child who 6 and under who has not yet played a full season of T-Ball, must play T-ball with OSPR. Our T-ball League is for any child 5 yrs old or in Kindergarten and will begin in April. If your child has participated in our pre-k "T-Ball for Beginners" program, that does NOT count to a year of T-ball.

This year, if any 1st grader who missed out on Kindergarten T-Ball last season would like to play this year, they may do so and should contact Jonathan Paradis at OSPR to register. If your child is in 1st grade or HAS played a full season of T-Ball, they need to register for Coach Pitch with OSLL. Registration for both programs will open in December. OSPR would like to thank our T-Ball sponsor, The Parthenon Diner, for their continued support of our program.

CRPA HOTSHOTS CONTEST

During April vacation this year, Old Saybrook Parks and Recreation will be holding our annual HotShots Contest. This event is offered to boys/girls, ages 9-15. Each player will have one minute to shoot from "hotspots" placed on one half of the court. Starting at the center of half-court, the player dribbles into shooting range. The contest challenges a player's speed, shooting, dribbling and rebounding ability. Three one-minute rounds constitute the duration of play for each player. The top scorer in each division will move on to the next level of the contest. The HotShots Contest is a recreational program designed to promote basketball enthusiasm as much as basketball skill, fun, physical fitness, friendship and good sportsmanship. This event will take place outside at the Rec. on Tuesday, April 13th and Wednesday April 14th. To register, please visit our website.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Beginning in February, OSPR will begin to collect applications for summer employment. We offer a variety of jobs at our beaches, mini golf and Rec. Center. We look for responsible, outgoing and dedicated individuals to join our team each summer. If you are interested in becoming a member of our team, please stop by the Rec. to pick up an application or download online. Summer positions include - Lifeguard, Camp Counselor, Parking Attendant, Concessions Stand, Mini Golf Attendant and others.

For more information regarding these articles, registration or programs with OSPR, please visit our website, www.OldSaybrookRec.com or contact Jonathan Paradis via email at: Jonathan.Paradis@oldsaybrookct.gov.

Youth & Family Services Commission

The OSYFS Commission, an adjunct to Old Saybrook Youth and Family Services, strives to help the agency advance its crucial mission: promoting a positive, healthy community for all of our residents, from young children and families to senior citizens.

The commission supports the agency in a variety of ways. Monthly meetings review its work, celebrate successes, assess the ever-changing needs of our residents, and explore new avenues for advancing the efforts of Youth & Family Services.

Spera (vice-chair, OSPD rep.), Jonathan Paradis, Assistant Director OSPR (secretary), Lisa Castro (public school system rep.), MaryAnn Iadarola (Public Health Nursing Board rep.), David Plotkin, OSPS educator/OS resident and parent, Jeff Harder, writer/OS resident and parent, and our OSHS student representatives; Joe Bradley, Kyle Wisialowski, and Libby Stuart.

With the coming year expected to bring new and unique challenges, we welcome and encourage members of the community to join our meetings—generally held on the first Tuesday of the month—and offer feedback and ideas on how to use available resources, aiming toward building a better Old Saybrook for all. Researching the Salem Witch Trials

According to the Chase’s Calendar of Events on March 1, 1692 the Salem Witch Hysteria began. This period of hysteria lasted a little over a year resulting in 20 deaths and over 150 people imprisoned. There has been a lot of mystery surrounding this time, and much has been researched and written. There are a variety of places you can go to get some more information on this time in America’s history. In a normal year (and hopefully soon after COVID leaves,) the library holds a pass to the Salem Witch Museum. The museum now offers an online tour of all the points that you might want to visit in the future. You can find it at salemwitchmuseum.com

There are also some great magazine articles that discuss the trials. There is one from the Smithsonian and another one from the New Yorker. Both can be accessed through our subscription to digital magazines from RBDigital which you can find on our website on the Online Resources page. There are also a number of academic journals that discuss the Witch Trials which you can find at researchitct.org, the CT State Library digital research platform.

There are also a variety of books you can get right here in the library. One of the most notable books of late is ‘The Witches: Salem 1692’ by Stacy Schiff. This book by a Pulitzer Prize winning author is available in various formats. A variety of fiction books have also been penned, some of the titles include; ‘The Heretic’s Daughter’ by Kathleen Kent, ‘The Physick Book of Deliverance Dane’ by Katherine Howe and the YA novel, ‘Beheld’ by Alex Flinn. If you are interested in exploring the history and stories surrounding the Salem Witch Trials, come check out the resources from the library.

Stormwater Management - Rooftop Gutter Systems

Generally, the largest area of impervious coverage at most homes is the rooftop. Most roof structures have gutter systems installed, but if a roof does not have a gutter system, rain will flow off the roof and infiltrate through the ground along the drip line, which can be both good and bad. When heavy rain-fall events occur, the gutter system helps collect rainwater and directs it through the downspouts. The downspouts generally either discharge directly to the surface, such as the lawn or a driveway or they can be connected to a pipe underground where the rainwater is directed to the town's sewer or storm-water system.

MAINTENANCE

Maintenance is essential to maintain the function of a gutter system on your roof. Over time, when gutter systems are installed on rooftops, they can build up leaf debris, sticks and twigs from overhanging tree branches. General maintenance practices are:

- Inspect your gutter system annually.
- Remove any build-up of leaves.
- Flush gutters with a garden hose and check downspouts by flushing them with the hose.
- Install gutter guards to help prevent leaves and sediment debris from clogging your gutter system.

- Ensure that the rainwater is discharged approximately 10 feet from the foundation, especially if you have a basement to avoid having water seep through.

BENEFITS FOR ROOFTOP GUTTER SYSTEMS

The long-term goals for installing gutter systems on your rooftop can be beneficial for residents and communities. Some of the potential benefits for gutter systems installed on your rooftop can help:

- Prevent foundation problems
- Avoid flooding of basements
- Soil around the house or foundation can be stabilized
- Prevent erosion of landscaping and turf grasses

The primary purpose of rooftop gutters is to collect rainwater and direct it away from the foundation. Some of the other purposes that gutter systems can help in the long run is that it can maintain your home to prevent structural and property damage. They can also save money from foundation and flooding problems.

Town Ord. No. 25 Removal of Snow and Ice

The Public Works Director would like to remind everyone that it is the property owner's responsibility to clear the sidewalks of snow and ice as described by Town Ord.

No. 25 Removal of Snow and Ice (§ 185-1).

Also, it is crucial that all Main Street business and Boston Post Road business/residential owners not use rock salt on the sidewalks, as the rock salt will damage the sidewalks. A suitable application is Safe Step Ice Melt or other comparable ice melts that specify "safe for concrete, brick and stone."

The Public Works Department is responsible to remove snow from approximately seventy-two miles of town roadway. Snow being thrown by the plow blade can be forceful and the weight of the pushed snow can cause damage to a mailbox. If it is determined a mailbox was struck directly by the snowplow, the Town will replace the existing mailbox with a standard mailbox and post. Standard mailbox replacement consists of a black metal mailbox. Post replacement will be a pressure treated post.

UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL A MAILBOX OR POST BE CONSIDERED FOR REPLACEMENT:

- If the post shows dry rot, is unstable or placed too close to the roadway.
- If a mailbox is popped off the cross member, shows no damage, and is lying there (the mailbox, most likely, was not hit by the plow but the weight of the pushed snow took the box off the support). Mailboxes must be firmly fixed to a durable post anchored in the ground to withstand the impact of thrown snow.

All qualifying mailboxes that were damaged by a Town snowplow need to be reported by April 1, 2021.

Avoid parking on Town roads during snowstorms to allow the plow trucks to clear the snow. Make certain that basketball hoops, sprinkler systems and other items are at least 8 feet from the road to avoid damage by the Town plows. Basketball hoops, sprinkler systems and other items within the Town right of way are not permitted and will not be replaced, repaired or reimbursed by the Town.

Residents and business owners contracting privately for plowing... DO NOT PUSH SNOW INTO THE ROADWAY, THIS IS ILLEGAL.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Old Saybrook Rotary Club News

A VERY BUSY SEASON FOR THE OLD SAYBROOK ROTARY CLUB

Our Rotary Club donated personal protection supplies to Middlesex Health which operates The Shoreline Medical Center in Westbrook, CT. Middlesex Chief Operating Officer Vincent Capece was on hand to receive the much-needed medical supplies.

Rotary's first ever "Macaroni Dinner" take-out was a complete success as the club's 'elves' cooked macaroni, gravy (sauce,) meatballs and garlic bread combined with a salad and homemade cookies. Fireman's field in Old Saybrook was a busy place on Sunday October 18th as over 350 take-out meals were distributed into waiting vehicles with hungry customers. Plans are already under way for next year's Macaroni Dinner.

With the financial assistance of The Westbrook Foundation and Rotary partner Edd's Place Restaurant, Westbrook, CT, complete take-out Thanksgiving meals were provided and distributed to Westbrook residents who, under normal circumstances, would not be able to enjoy the Thanksgiving Holiday.

Mark your 2021 calendars for our Annual Golf Tournament to be held on Thursday May 27th at Fox Hopyard Golf Club in East Haddam, CT - a fun filled day of golf, contests, food & prizes.

A NEW MEMBER DRIVE IS NOW UNDERWAY.

Old Saybrook Historical Society

Dedicated to Preserving, Protecting & Promoting the History of Old Saybrook

LOCAL GARDENER RECEIVES PRESTIGIOUS AWARD

The Federated Garden Clubs of Connecticut held its annual awards ceremony on October 28, 2020 via zoom. Four awards were announced for the Old Saybrook Garden Club. Three first place certificates for excellence were awarded in the categories of Newsletter, Yearbook and Youth Programming. The fourth award, the Ellen Carder Memorial Award for highest achievement in horticulture, was awarded to club member Bonnie Penders for her noteworthy horticultural achievements at the Old Saybrook Hart House Heritage Gardens. (See photo of Bonnie Penders, right, on page 33.)

Bonnie, an avid herbalist, Advanced Master Gardener and certified FGCCT landscape design consultant, has been a member of the Durham and Old Saybrook garden clubs for thirty years. In the past six years, Bonnie has developed three herb gardens in the gardens behind the General William Hart House on Main Street. She encourages volunteers who would like to learn more about horticulture to consider joining either or both of these very special community organizations. For further information, email: saybrookhistory.org.

TOUR OLD SAYBROOK'S 'ANCIENT BURIAL GROUND'

With pandemic conditions causing many readjustments, the Historical Society was unable to offer its annual tour of Cypress Cemetery but has produced a 27-minute film that will guide you through this "ancient burial ground" from the comfort of your own home. "A Tour of Cypress Cemetery" features Historical Society member Torrance Downes as host and tour guide and is available on the Historical Society's website at: saybrookhistory.org. You're invited to join Torrance as he shares the stories of a few of the town's historic residents.

PRESERVATION AWARD TO FIRST CHURCH

The First Church of Christ, Old Saybrook received the Historical Society's "Award for Achievement in Historic Preservation" for their projects, programs and activities that have contributed to the entire town by their preservation of historic items, the church building and property. The Church was honored for its longstanding commitment to historic preservation, conscientious stewardship of its facilities and historic items as well as its care of the South Green. The Church received a plaque and its name will be added to the plaque at the Town Hall.

THE WRITE PLACE

Around the time that Amelia Hart Hotchkiss married Amos Sheffield, in May 1824, she received a mahogany three-drawer writing desk as a gift. While we don't know who the thoughtful gift-giver was, we know that the rather elegant piece of furniture has now found its rightful home at the Gen. William Hart House.

A short time ago the Historical Society was contacted by an upstate New York antique dealer who said he had purchased the desk at auction. He noted that the item was inscribed "Amelia Hart Sheffield, May 28, 1824, Saybrook, Conn." In researching his new purchase the dealer offered to sell the desk to the Historical Society.

Amos Sheffield (1789-1868) was a successful merchant who owned a store on Main Street with Elisha Hart, General William Hart's brother. The other portrait is of his wife, Amelia Hotchkiss Sheffield (1783-1869). Amelia was the daughter of Rev. Frederick Hotchkiss, the popular minister of the Congregational Church for over 50 years. Funding the desk purchase was a significant hurdle at a difficult time for the Historical Society but an anonymous benefactor provided the needed funds and the desk was purchased. It now is located in the Gen. William Hart House in the same room where the portraits of Amelia and her husband Amos are housed.

ARTIST MAREK SARBA PAINTS JOHN WINTHROP, JR.

One of the most treasured possessions of the Old Saybrook Historical Society is a waistcoat owned by John Winthrop, Jr., (1606-1676) the first governor of the Saybrook settlement, later governor of Connecticut colony who (with the help of his friends, the Lord Say and Sele and Lord Brook) obtained a charter uniting Connecticut and New Haven colonies and providing a large degree of self-government.

Accompanying the display of the Winthrop's waistcoat was a rather gloomy and overcast copy of a picture of him based on a 19th century portrait. However, thanks to Marek Sarba, an accomplished artist and active supporter of the Historical Society, a new, sensitive, expressive, thoughtful portrait of Winthrop was created. The final product is a colorful and captivating image of Winthrop highlighting his attractive waistcoat.

NEW PUBLICATION A MAIN STREET HISTORY

Main Street remains a place where you can meet your friends and neighbors, get a coffee, shop, worship, vote or volunteer and now a new publication is available to tell some of the many stories found on this wide boulevard.

"Old Saybrook: A Main Street History," written by Historical Society member Tedd Levy, briefly describes some of the more prominent structures that line the street from the railroad station and Upper Cemetery south to several historic homes. Main Street is changing, as it always has, and this publication provides a snapshot of what it used to be... and what still is. Copies are available in local shops or from the Historical Society website: saybrookhistory.org/product-category/books.

Online Hepburn Museum Exhibit in the Works

The Katharine Hepburn Cultural Arts Center (the Kate) is pleased to announce the receipt of a grant from Connecticut Humanities to support the development of an online museum exhibit. Since opening in 2009, the Kate's lobby has been home to a small museum that permanently honors Ms. Hepburn with a display of some of her awards, memorabilia, artwork and photos. The Kate's theater and the museum were closed for much of 2020 due to the pandemic and the online exhibit offers an alternative to in-person visits with the potential to reach Hepburn fans around the globe. The exhibit will highlight new items in the Kate's collection and items on loan to the museum. Most notably are letters gifted to the Kate from the Grant family of Fenwick, clothing items from Ms. Hepburn's personal wardrobe and career, and photos from the desk of Howard Hughes, a one-time companion of Ms. Hepburn. "It is truly remarkable to read through these letters and learn what Kate was thinking while on a path toward stardom," said the Kate's Executive Director Brett Elliott. "We are privileged to have these letters and several other items from the Grant family in our collection and look forward to sharing this virtual exhibit when it is complete." The online exhibit is projected to launch in early 2021 and will be available for viewing on the Kate's website and YouTube channel. The Connecticut Humanities grant included a matching requirement and the Kate thanks Old Saybrook residents Wayne and Barbara Harms for their generous support toward this. For more information about the museum and the online exhibit, please visit www.thekate.org/about/museum or call 860-510-0473.

Joan Joyce - Our Finest Athlete by Sigrid Kun

Many fondly remember going to Raybestos Memorial field in Stratford, CT. Amid chants of “Joanie, Joanie,” the softball phenom mowed down the competition. Joan Joyce dominated women’s fast pitch softball for decades - beginning her amateur career at age 13 with the Raybestos Brakettes. The Waterbury, CT native excelled at every sport she tried - a true competitor, a lifelong coach/mentor. Joyce combines an unbridled, remarkable talent with a matter of fact, humble personality. While she readily speaks about her success, there is no bragging.

Many consider her as “The Greatest Woman Athlete of All Time.” Her jaw-dropping achievements/honors take pages to list, including 20 Hall of Fame inductions, Connecticut Athlete of the Year (selected by the Connecticut Sports Writers Alliance), and a softball field renamed Joan Joyce Field (a part of Municipal Stadium in Waterbury).

Women’s softball coach at Florida Atlantic University.

A LIFETIME OF ASTOUNDING ACHIEVEMENTS

Joyce’s softball career covered 1954-1963 and 1967-1975 with the Brakettes and 1964-1966 with the Orange Lionettes. The slingshot pitcher notched 150 no-hitters and 50 perfect games with a lifetime earned run average of 0.09. An outstanding hitter, her career batting average is .327. In 1974, her Brakettes were the first American team to win the World Championships.

She co-founded the International Women’s Professional Softball Association, being the star player for and part-owner of the Connecticut Falcons. The Falcons won every championship of the IWPSA’s existence (1976-1979).

She is a four-time Women’s Basketball Association All-American and three time AAU Basketball All-American. She played on the USA Women’s National Team in 1964 and 1965, setting a national tournament basketball single-game scoring record (67 points) in 1964.

She formed the Connecticut Clippers volleyball team in 1968, and competed as a player/coach. She was named to the All-East United States Volleyball Association Regional Team. Taking up golf at age 35, she spent 19 years on the LPGA tour (1977-1995). She still holds the LPGA and PGA record of just 17 putts in one round of golf.

Now 80, Joyce is the women’s softball coach at Florida Atlantic University. Starting the program from scratch in 1994, she has amassed 12 Conference Championships, participated in 11 NCCA Tournaments, and won 8 Coach-of-the Year Awards.

THE SECRET TO SUCCESS?

“I don’t know,” she says. “The only thing I can say about me is that I am very competitive. . . . I will beat you at just about everything. If you beat me, I’d shake hands. But I’d say to myself, you are not going to beat me a second time.”

Her mother worked days. She, her father (above) and brother played sports all the time. “We would end up going to my father’s softball games,” she recalls. “We had no gloves. We’d run around everywhere while my father was playing. When they came in from the field, they’d put the gloves under the bench. We’d take them and start catching. When they went back in the field, they’d have to come and get the gloves back from us.” When her father played basketball, she and her brother would wait for the halftime buzzer and then fly onto the court to play.

SPECIAL MOMENTS - JOYCE SHARED A FEW

Striking Out Ted Williams/Hank Aaron. She calls striking out Ted Williams (left) and Hank Aaron her favorite moments. “It’s the easiest thing I’ve ever done in my life,” she relates. “They had no chance against a softball pitcher just because of the distance.” She faced Williams as part of fundraisers in 1961 and 1966; Aaron in 1978 in a West Hartford exhibition. There were no radar guns then. A doctorate study from USC determined her pitching speed to be the equivalent of 119 mph in baseball.

Invited to China by the All-China Sports Federation (1979).

“It was the first team ever invited to China,” she recalls of the Connecticut Falcons. “When we played our last game sixty thousand people came to the game. I was looking out and it was like a flood of people just coming and coming and coming. And I’m thinking, ‘Oh, my God!’” The American team won all six games. In the final game, Joyce pitched a no-hitter to beat the Chinese all-star team.

Softball World Championships (1974).

Joyce pitched a no hitter against Australia. “Only one walk. And we picked her off,” notes Joyce. “It would have been a perfect game.” She also stymied Japan, giving up only two hits. No team wore helmets then. Japan showed up wearing them. Was it to distract her or out of fear of her? “It didn’t work,” she laughs. “You did not want to get me focused or to get my attention. Stare at me? Give me looks? I would say to myself, keep doing that ‘cause you’re never going to beat me. I just didn’t like to lose.”
