The First Selectman's Corner

I am grateful for the confidence the voters have shown in me this past election. I pledge to continue the great work First Selectman Joe Mazza has done for the town. I have been getting to know the talented and dedicated staff. And I look forward to taking on the many challenges facing the town in the future.

We are quickly moving into the budget season where the Board of Selectmen will be working closely with the Board of Finance, headed by new Chairman Michael Ayles, to craft a budget for the Town. The Board of Selectmen will have its budget workshop meetings in late January, where it will hear budget presentations from the various departments. Then the Board of Education and Board of Selectmen will make formal budget presentations to the Board of Finance at its February 15 meeting. The Board of Finance budget public hearing is scheduled for March 6 with its workshops to follow on March 8 and 12. The public is encouraged to attend these meetings and offer their input on the budgets being presented.

Aside from the budget, we will be addressing some immediate priorities including the Energy Performance Contracting proposal, which will help fund capital projects that will be paid for through the energy savings the town will yield from those improvements. We will also be initiating an update of the Town's 2003 Transportation Plan to address pedestrian and cycle safety as well as the appropriate use and location of sidewalks and pathways.

The reconstruction of Long Hill Road from Route 1 to Hubbard Road has been completed except for a few minor issues that will be finished over the winter. This major north/south artery, which is a major evacuation route that leads to one of our primary emergency shelters, is now a safer road that will be free of flooding.

Matthew T. Hoey III, First Selectman

Public Works is preparing for the winter season and as always we hope for a mild winter. I want to remind everyone to be extra careful when traveling our roads, especially during inclement weather and to be aware of our winter ordinances related to snow removal and parking. Within 24 hours after a snowstorm is over, property owners must have their sidewalks cleared. There is an "Overnight Parking Ban" in effect from December 1st through April 1st. No on-street parking is allowed between the hours of 1:00 am and 7:00 am or whenever snow removal operations are in progress. The Fire Department also requests that if you have a fire hydrant in front of your property, to keep it free and clear of snow in case of emergencies. In addition, please do not plow snow into the roads. We need everyone's cooperation in order to clear the roads quickly and make sure all roads and sidewalks are safe for vehicles and pedestrians.

Economic Development Department

As we enter the first quarter of 2018, we are praying for a mild winter that keeps everyone safe and warm. Our cover photo depicts a more severe winter of the past and we hope that is it, in the past. Several construction projects are underway that we trust will not get stopped or slowed significantly due to frigid weather and snow. A few to mention include; the new 16K sf office building at 350 Goose Lane, located next to The Stone Agency which is in the former Wilbur & King space. A third building is underway at the Patriot Center, a 16K sf building to complete the site which also includes the two new buildings in the front, each 20K sf. Framing is well underway at The Mews, a 14 unit condominium development on Rt. 1 west on the former Guilford Tavern site. A total of 5 luxurious condominiums will be located on the rear portion of the Gatehouse West development. Two are completely framed with a model available for viewing while the remaining three are being framed. The former farmhouse located at the corner of Rt. 1 and Moose Hill Road has been demolished, allowing construction to begin on a 10 unit apartment complex. In town, a complete renovation of 30 Water Street (next to the Post Office) has begun. This historic building will be brought back to life to support a mixed use of office space on the lower level and two apartments on the second level.

A new biotech firm has located at 14 Water Street, Bioasis Technologies Inc. This is the first U.S. office for the parent company, a Vancouver, Canada-based company. The space will initially house five employees. The company stated, "The greater New Haven area is in close proximity to both Boston and New York. The new U.S. office provides a physical location that is at the crossroads of pharma, biotech, and academia. It will increase the exposure of our company and provide access to a broad pool of talent and strategic resources." Guilford Co-Working was formerly in this space and has moved across the Green to 96 Broad Street.

Surrender to the Float, located at 236 Church Street, is under new ownership. They had a grand opening ribbon cutting on November 18th and are welcoming current and new customers. The CVS

Plaza will have two new tenants; Guilford Coffee House, which will be located where the former Frogurt Time was and Orangetheory Fitness will occupy 3,450 sf of previously unused space. Orangetheory Fitness has 8 other locations with the majority located in Fairfield County. The Guilford location represents their expansion into New Haven County.

Similar to other Commissions in Town, the Economic Development Commission has openings and is seeking volunteers that have an interest in our business community. Ideally, the EDC would like to attract owners of our local businesses to bring that fresh perspective to the Commission.

Continue enjoying all Historic Guilford has to offer: SHOP-DINE-EXPLORE... and more. Should you have any questions or comments, feel free to reach out to me.

A SITE FOR ALL SEASONS

There’s value for businesses and residents on visitguilfordct.com

Are you new to town? Are you a long-time resident looking for something new to do near home, or maybe you just want to explore what’s beyond your usual haunts? Maybe you’re a business looking for greater exposure within our local community. Well, visitguilfordct.com is just what the doctor ordered.

Developed more than two years ago by the Guilford Preservation Alliance, the site is highlighted at the information plaza located on Church Street at the top of the Green (next to the Community Center). It serves as a great “walk-up” resource for hundreds of people who visit our town primarily between May and September. But, of course, the site is accessible to anyone and everyone year-round. So, whether you’re on your home computer or tablet or out walking the green with smart phone in-hand, let’s check out some of its benefits.

- Many shopping, dining and local services are prominently displayed, with more being added all the time. If you’re looking for services in the community, we should be your first stop.
- There are seven parks in our town (yes, one is for the dogs!). The site lets you locate and read about activities available at each.
- Some 20 trails and maps are available. With the right shoes and clothing you can enjoy the outdoors all year. And for the less adventurous there are guided and self-guided walking tours in the heart of town.
- Our events calendar highlights community activities, holiday celebrations, and historic events.

There’s no question that visitguilfordct.com is a great continuing resource for residents. And local business will appreciate the benefits of being seen on the site by the growing number of residents and non-residents who visit it.

WHAT IS 2-1-1?

It is Connecticut’s free and confidential information and referral service. The Guilford Foundation - Live Here Give Here

GUILFORD FOUNDATION

Live here. Give here.

In 2017, the Guilford Foundation committed more than $120,000 for initiatives and organizations serving Guilford, including grants for diapers for babies, the Witness Stones Project, food for the needy, Guilford's first-ever Performing Arts Festival, and restoration of the Grass Island shack, to name just a few.

As we look towards 2018, we anticipate another year of intense funding requests. Thanks to our generous supporters and a prudent investment strategy, our permanent endowment has grown to over $2.6 million. This will enable the Guilford Foundation to continue to address whatever the future brings through leadership and support to our citizens.

Looking for grant funding? TGF has changed its competitive grant making process as of January 1, 2018. TGF has implemented an annual application deadline (instead of quarterly). TGF will accept competitive grant applications between February 15, 2018 and March 15, 2018. Potential applicants are encouraged to attend one of two identical information sessions, to be held on January 24th at 10 am and February 15th at 2:30 pm. RSVP for location.

TGF also partners with Guilford High School's Interact Club to support the Youth Advisory Group. This group also accepts grant applications (also available on our website). Their next annual deadline is April 1, 2018.

Looking to get involved? TGF has an annual dinner and celebration each year to review the previous year's accomplishments and present current strategies and efforts. TGF also has an electronic newsletter and Facebook page, which provide regular updates.

For more information, including ways to give, visit our website at www.guilfordfoundation.org. Thanks to the support of this amazing community, TGF is positioned better than ever to meet our mission to "connect people who care with causes that matter to them" and improve the quality of life in Guilford: now, and for generations to come.

"Little Golf Course That Could"

The 2017 golf season came to an end as the winter moved in, and pushed fall out of the way. The season concluded with The Octoberfest Fall Classic. 30 golfers enjoyed a beautiful day just one day before the tropical storm blew in on Sunday. Players had a chance to win (4) hole-in-one prizes including a Grand Prize trip to either St. Andrews, Pebble Beach or Hawaii. PGA Pro, Mike Papp, has (5) tournaments scheduled for next season, all with the same kind of prizes. "The tournaments were very well received, and someone is going to win the big prize next year," said Papp.

The 2018 season memberships are filling up for next year, and the applications are available in the Golf Shop. Over 60 junior golfers participated in the Summer Camps. "I have room for 160 junior golfer's next year," said Papp. The season will conclude with a Shotgun Scramble Tournament which will include, lunch, and trophies for every participant. "It has been great to see our junior golfers playing with their parents, and becoming new greens fee paying customers," said Papp. Junior golfers are the game's future, and there is no better place for them to grow as individuals than at our own Guilford Lakes Golf Course "Guilford's Little Augusta." The sign-up sheets will be available in the Golf Shop, as early as, late March. Don't wait too long! Winter lessons are also available. Call 860-898-0138 for more information.

The town hired Mike Papp this past year in hopes to fill a "much missed" void, and generate new revenue. "I have next year all laid out. It has been great to become part of a team with Ted Tighe, and Jack Moriarty. It was a pleasure working with our golf commission, and the local papers have been very supportive," said Papp. We finished the season by being voted the "Best Public Golf Course" On The Shoreline! "We are not only the "Little Golf Course That Could, but the little golf course that did," said Papp. Happy Holidays, and see you all in the spring.

2018 CITIZENS POLICE ACADEMY

The Guilford Police Department is seeking participants for the 2018 Citizens Police Academy beginning Thursday, March 22nd through Thursday, May 24th 2018. As the Department strives for transparency, the Citizens Police Academy provides a hands-on opportunity to educate the citizens of Guilford on the operations of the Department while obtaining valuable feedback from citizens to enhance police and community relations.

The 10-week Citizens Police Academy will include over 30 hours of instruction taught in 3-hour sessions every Thursday evening from 6 pm to 9 pm. We ask that participants commit for all 10 weeks to complete the program. The training includes interactive classroom participation, a department overview, elements of crimes, laws, a range day, patrol ride-a-long, K9 demonstrations, federal and state agencies. Classes will be held at the Guilford Police Department Community Room located at 400 Church Street.

If you have questions, contact Sgt. Jakober in the Crime Prevention Unit at 203-453-8061. Applications will be at the Department, on our Facebook Page, and on the Guilford Police Department website, www.guilfordpd.com. The deadline for applications is March 10th, 2018 and the class size is limited to 30 people. Participants must be Guilford residents and 16 years of age or older. Sixteen and 17 year olds must have written permission from a parent or guardian to participate. A standard background check will be completed on each applicant.

IRS SCAMS

This time of year, IRS scammers are looking to steal your money. Thousands receive letters, phone calls and emails indicating that they owe back taxes and will be penalized, both criminally and financially, if they do not pay the amount due immediately. The written correspondence appears legitimate with IRS letterhead formatting and personal information. The phone calls are equally convincing and very intimidating. The truth is, the IRS will not call, email or send a letter of that nature in a not certified fashion. The IRS will want to know if you have received a letter and document the contact via certified return/receipt letter.

If you receive some type of correspondence from the IRS or a call from someone claiming to be the IRS, contact the IRS directly via the online listed number, not the number listed in the letter, email or phone call. Do not give out your personal information. If they are calling you, they will have it. Tell them you will call them back on the number listed for the IRS online or in the phone book. Often times, the caller will hang up as they have realized that you have been educated on the scam and will not be a willing victim at that point.

Taking the extra step to determine if the IRS contact is legitimate will save you, possibly thousands of dollars, down the road. The IRS website has a list of known common scams associated with their agency. What you should know, is that this scam list is evolving almost daily as scammers out there seek to relieve you of your money in new ways. For more information go to IRS.gov or call the New Haven office at 203-492-8609.

COMPUTER SCAMS

Have you received the call from "Microsoft" claiming something is wrong with your computer and they need access to it to fix the "bug." It's a scam. Microsoft will not call you to fix anything. The caller is attempting to gain access to your computer for one of two things. Either they are accessing your computer to take information from your hard drive or they are downloading a “keystroke virus” that will document your login and password information for banks, email, or other sites that contain personal financial information. They will use this information to steal your identity and wreak havoc on your credit.

Have you ever heard of “click bait”? The scammers are hoping you haven’t and are fishing for victims with links they send in emails or videos on social media. Click bait is something as simple as an article with an interesting title that you ‘click’ your computer mouse on to view. While you are viewing the link, the virus is spreading throughout your computer. The viruses vary. Some just steal your email contact lists or social media contact lists. Others access personal information and search for usernames and passwords for online banking, insurance and tax sites. Don’t fall victim to this scam. If you don’t know who sent the email, if the email looks suspicious from someone you do know or if the article or video is not from a trusted source, DON’T OPEN IT. Just delete it or skip over it on social media. Make sure your anti-virus software is up to date on your computer and if you think your computer may have been accessed, disconnect it from the internet and bring it to a computer expert to make sure it is not infected.

Have you ever typed in the wrong website into your browser? For instance, google.com instead of google.com. Hackers are counting on you to misspell websites and then will send you an alert that you have a virus on your computer. The alert looks official, like it was sent from Microsoft or Apple. However, the virus alert is false and the scammers are trying to get you to click on the link they provide or call the number they provide to get access to your computer. If you see this happen, close your browser and disconnect it from the internet. Clear your browser history, clear the cache and cookies. Reboot the computer and you should be fine. Again, make sure you have up to date virus protection on your computer.

There is no definitive way to protect from all viruses and scams but the most important tool for computer safety is educating yourself on the scams and viruses out there. These criminals are lurking out there and waiting for someone to fall into their trap. See the Federal Trade Commission’s website for further information on scams and computer crimes: <http://www.consumer.ftc.gov/>. To report these types of crimes go to: <http://www.ic3.gov> to make sure the complaints are tracked and investigated.

MEDICATION DROP BOX

The Guilford Police Department has a Medication Drop Box in our front lobby which is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year and is free of charge. This medication drop provides an environmentally safe alternative to disposing of medications in the landfill, septic systems or sewer systems that may later negatively affect the environment. Unused or expired medication can pose a risk to children, family members, and caretakers. It can also be misused or abused, leading to serious complications, overdose, even death. Please feel free to stop by the station anytime to properly dispose of unused medications, no questions asked. Last year the Guilford Police Department safely disposed of over 600 lbs. of unused medications that could have otherwise gotten into the wrong hands. Please no needles or liquids in the medication box. Thank you for continuing to help us save the environment and our community!

E.C. Adams Middle School 1937-2017

As we celebrate the 80th year of this wonderful building, it is important to remember some of the history surrounding its creation.

Guilford, back in 1936, had a total population of less than 4,000 citizens of all ages. There were over a hundred working farms in our community producing; fruits and vegetables, dairy products, chickens and eggs, turkeys, beef, pork, even mink furs. Most of the farms had names like Buttonwood, Hillcrest & Maple Shade. Guilford had several iron foundries and part of our curriculum in metal shop class taught us how to make molds and cast items like book ends.

The main road through Guilford was U.S. Route 1, which was lined with large Elm trees that made it look like a tunnel of shade in the summer. The trolleys were phased out by buses. It was a one hour ride to New Haven.

There were still many horse and wagons on the roads including hay wagons, ice carts for the ice boxes, coal wagons and produce and fruit wagons delivered to neighborhoods by vendors. Most farms had teams of oxen which were used for heavy field work. Some farms had teams of large work horses to haul the heavy loads of trees to the saw mill or stone for building projects. One member of the faculty taught animal husbandry and other courses related to farming. He also served as the advisory to FFA, the largest club in school.

Although the storm clouds were building in Europe, WWII was three years in the future. President Franklin Roosevelt was leading America out of the Great Depression. One of his programs to put men back to work involved the U.S. Government giving money to local governments for public building projects.

When Guilford's school age population became too large for "The Institute" a new school was proposed and this building was begun. Construction was completed in 1937 and it was dedicated as Guilford's High School.

My first day as a student here was in the fall of 1952. I rode my bike from home and parked it in a wooden shed at the rear of the building where the gymnasium is today. We had no book bags or backpacks in those days, but I had a sandwich, cookie and an apple in a little brown bag. I also had a nickel for milk. My classmates and I would spend the next six years here in grades 7, 8 and 9 through 12. We were the last class to graduate from this building in 1958. The following year a new high school opened on New England Road and this became the Guilford Junior High School.

When the North Junior High School was built in 1978, I wrote a letter to the Board of Education suggesting that the two junior highs be named after prominent Guilford citizens. They agreed and appointed a committee of three to propose names: Mrs. Giles, from the Board, Joel Helander and myself. We met one evening and I proposed Abraham Baldwin for the north school, Mrs. Giles suggested we pick someone more contemporary for the south school. Joel suggested Dr. Adams and the vote was unanimous. We adjourned after 13 and ½ minutes. Adams and Baldwin were then named Middle Schools and included grades 6, 7 & 8.

In 2003 the Town Clerk, Jan Teft asked if I would help her clean out the vault in the basement of the Town Hall. During this process I found a file of papers for the construction of the Adams School. The site was a swamp that was filled in to prepare for the construction. The total cost of the building was $150,000, which included the school furniture. The federal government paid for 75% and Guilford 25%.

During its dedication on January 15, 1937 it was stated, "A thing of beauty and usefulness it gives form and substance to the hope of many years." It concludes with, "House builded of senseless brick and mortar and wood and stone, yet vibrant with the young life of today and with the hopes of tomorrow, we salute thee and dedicate thee to thy high mission."

The Adams building has had additions, renovations and replacements over the years, but it is still one of the best built buildings in town and most importantly it has served thousands of Guilford students over its 80 years.

Welcome to the Town of Guilford, CT

Guilford has a small, historic, charming atmosphere which is highlighted by its rustic character and individuality. Unique characteristics include the Town Green with tree lined abutting streets that boast the third largest collection of historical homes in New England, dwellings from the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries. So come, stay awhile and enjoy everything our town has to offer.

Happy New Year!

But, it's January. Days are short and cold. Nights are long, and colder. Birds have few daylight hours in which to find seeds, fruit, and a few insects to sustain them through the night. Even if you have planned your landscape and garden to provide shelter, water, and food producing plants, supplemental feeding is still recommended.

Most songbirds, during the spring and summer, have a diet that is largely insect based. This food supply is usually abundant, and highly nutritious. With the onset of fall and winter, seeds and fruits become the main source of food for both the migratory and permanent resident birds. During these seasons, backyard feeders can help to sustain bird populations.

What to feed? Certainly, providing a mix of seeds, fruit, and suet cakes will attract a diversity of species, but there are several key foods that one may want to purchase. In our region, black-oil sunflower seeds attract the greatest number of species. They are nutritious and high in fat, providing a good energy source. They have a high meat- to- shell ratio, and shells are easily cracked by both small and large birds.

"Nijer" or thistle seed is the preferred seed for finches. Because it is small and somewhat expensive, it is best to provide this seed in a special nijer feeder, rather than including it in a feeder of mixed seed.

Safflower seed is preferred by cardinals and grosbeaks, and is rarely eaten by squirrels. It can be fed separately, or mixed into your sunflower seed to discourage squirrels and starlings from visiting your feeder.

Ground feeding birds, such as doves, prefer cracked corn and white millet. Both of these seeds are generally found in a good quality seed mix, and seed that falls from the feeder is readily eaten.

Woodpeckers, chickadees, and nut-hatches (insect eating birds) appreciate the high energy suet cakes that often contain additional bird seed or fruit. The cakes do not go rancid, and can be fed year round.

Feeders should be placed close enough to trees and shrubs to provide cover and shelter for the birds, but far enough away (10') to prevent jumping off places for squirrels and cats. Feeders should be kept clean, and the hulls and seeds that collect beneath your feeder should be raked up every few weeks.

Water is as important for birds in winter as it is in summer. Using two round cake pans will allow you to fill one each day, bringing in the second one to thaw during freezing temperatures.

At Village Greene we have a broad selection of feeder types to accommodate your choice of seed. We carry black oil sunflower, a general mixed seed, and a full supply of Lyric Seed Mixes. These seed mixes have been preference tested, so that there is no waste, and no noxious weed seed. You can choose from specific formulations (ie: cardinals or woodpeckers), or single seed, such as golden safflower. We also carry a full assortment of suet cakes.

While you are enjoying watching the birds from the warmth inside your home, take some time to plan your garden to help attract more birds and pollinators this spring and summer. Our horticulturists are available year round to assist with your garden plans, and offer suggestions for your landscape.

Lastly, consider Citizen Science and participating in one of the feeder counts. CT Audubon Society and Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology have annual feeder counts to help monitor the population trends of our avian friends.

Spaying Your Pets

There are many benefits to spaying your pets, but did you know that it could also be a life-saving procedure? Female dogs and cats that are not spayed have a high risk of developing something called pyometra, or an infection of the uterus. This preventable infection makes your pet very sick and can be potentially life-threatening.

A spay, also called an ovariohysterectomy, is a surgical procedure that involves removal of the ovaries and uterus. This procedure is used to prevent your pet from going into heat, becoming pregnant, and can decrease the risk for certain types of cancer. In addition these benefits, spayed patients are no longer at risk of developing a uterine infection. In dogs, pyometra, or a uterine infection, usually occurs about 1-2 months after they have had a heat cycle. Symptoms commonly encountered include increased drinking and urination, lethargy, fever, and decreased appetite. In order to diagnose a pyometra, radiographs or an ultrasound may be needed to assess for evidence of an enlarged uterus.

If your pet develops a pyometra, the only true treatment is surgery. The surgery is similar to a spay, however the operation has evolved from an elective procedure in a healthy pet to a life-threatening emergency surgery in a critically-ill patient. The surgery usually requires hospitalization as well due to the need for fluids and antibiotics. If left untreated, these animals are at risk for a uterine rupture, resulting in a severe systemic infection and possibly death.

Fortunately, the prevalence of spaying pets has increased in recent years making pyometras less common. At Guilford Veterinary Hospital we would love to discuss any questions you may have regarding spaying your pet - such as when the procedure should be performed, what it entails, and how it can benefit the life and longevity of your pet.

Guilford Performing Arts Festival Brings Audiences to Their Feet

WERE YOU THERE?

If not, you missed what some are calling "the best event on the shoreline"—the Guilford Performing Arts Festival. With nearly 50 events spanning four days, October 12-15, the festival performers played to crowds that filled the venues to capacity.

Cheers, clapping and standing ovations ended performances that brought alive eras past, from the days of Johann Sebastian Bach, one of the greatest composers of all time, to the reincarnation of Woody Guthrie. It was Broadway in Guilford, cabaret, the sounds of swing and big bands reverberating through the community center, fiddlers and rock stars, song-writing and performers' workshops and much, much more.

And all of this was free, thanks to the support of the presenting sponsor Guilford Foundation, as well as Bishop's Orchards, Guilford Savings Bank, Page Hardware & Appliance Co., Royal Printing Service, Shoreline Arts Alliance, Zip06, Mercy by the Sea, Rotary Club of Guilford Connecticut USA and many other personal sponsors and patrons.

If you missed the celebration this year, Guilford Performing Arts Festival Director William Boughton is assuring the town that the festival will be back again in two years.

Shoreline Theatrical Arts is the 2017 fiscal sponsor of the Guilford Performing Arts Festival.

Vista Supports USVI Family Impacted by Hurricanes

Members and staff of Vista Life Innovations, a community-based organization that supports the personal success of individuals with disabilities, recently mailed care packages to a family in the U.S. Virgin Islands struggling due to the impacts of Hurricanes Irma and Maria. After hearing about the devastation wrought by these two powerful storms, members of Vista's Connect day program researched ways in which they could aid hurricane victims.

Through social media, they were turned on to Adopt a Family USVI, a grassroots initiative that pairs families in the U.S. Virgin Islands affected by the hurricanes with supporters.

Once the Connect program was matched to a family in need, members and staff spearheaded a collection drive—which yielded enough supplies to fill eight care packages. Items included canned goods, personal hygiene products, diapers, batteries, snack foods and more.

Giving back is a key component of Vista's philosophy. From hosting American Red Cross blood drives to volunteering with programs like Meals on Wheels, Vista students, members and staff actively seek opportunities to support their communities throughout the year.

With campuses in Madison, Westbrook and Guilford, Vista has been providing services and resources to individuals with disabilities for over 28 years.
